

Eliot Wagonheim

Lawyer | Strategist | Entrepreneur | Writer

Eliot Wagonheim is a speaker, strategist, author, educator and business lawyer with thirty years experience helping clients embrace, rather than inhibit, innovation. Through his Fire, Aim...Ready platform, Eliot serves as a confidante, mentor, strategist and sounding board for guiding entrepreneurs and organizational leaders of every size company across diverse industries. He brings humor, real world experience and an entrepreneurial spirit to every presentation.

Speaking topics include but not limited to:

Lessons from Business for Life, Fulfilling the Promise of Servant Leadership, Offering a Calling Instead of a Job, The Creation of a Winning Corporate Culture, The Ultimate Keys to Successful Hiring, Managing Risk without Sacrificing Innovation, and more....

Eliot inspires and motivates leaders of all levels to:

- Shed the weight of S.O.P.
- Overcome institutional entrenchment
- Break through the barriers that stop so many initiatives dead in their tracks
- Stop letting lawyers and boilerplate forms determine the fate of their business
- Take control of their companies at every level, from the sales desk to the boardroom
- Recruit the next generation of rock stars
- Make their organization into a class of one

Eliot brings value and uncommon insights to companies of all sizes and descriptions, including financial institutions, franchises, national trade associations, and some of the most recognized organizations in the United States.
